SECTION B

51. Read the story and answer the questions that follow in full sentences.

Every Monday, there is a big market place where people go to buy and sell different items. It is held in Seeta along the road, in Seeta town.

Traders come from Kampala city with items nicely packed and loaded on lorries. The buyers come from villages around Seeta.

The traders bring very many items ranging from safety pins to big televisions. Market days are very enjoyable especially at the end of the month when people have received their salaries. The farmers sell produce. The carpenters sell furniture. The manufacturers sell electronics. The fish mongers sell fish. The tailors sell clothes. The butchers sell meat. The iron-mongers sell saucepans.

It is a big day for shops in Seeta town. The shops nearby sell many goods. Those who sell cheap things make a lot of money but those who sell expensive things sell only a few items.

By late afternoon, the whole place is very crowded and dirty. In the evening, all traders and buyers go back happily until the next Monday.
