The human body! The human body!
How wonderful you are
You can walk, talk, see, feel and even sing
With the mind, you can highly think.

The legs and feet support us on the land
Arms and fingers write down our plans
Our life is stored inside the brain
With parts of the skin that protect us outside.

With nerves that feel a touch
With a tongue to speak, test and lick
Our feelings can change very fast like the sun and rain
In our mind, there is much to discover and find.
