ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The National Curriculum Development Centre (NCDC) would like to express its appreciation to all those who worked tirelessly towards the production of this P.4 Curriculum.

Our gratitude goes to the Curriculum Task Force of the Ministry of Education and Sports for overseeing and taking timely decisions whenever necessary. Our thanks also go to partners in education who provided the professional information and technical assistance and guidance to enable us come up with syllabuses in the seven subjects.

Our gratitude is also extended to our members of the various subject panels who worked tirelessly to ensure the various curriculum materials are ready within time.

Lastly but not least, we would like to acknowledge all those behind the scenes who formed part of the team that worked hard to finalise the work on the various syllabi.

NCDC takes responsibility for any shortcomings that might be identified in the publication and welcomes suggestions for effectively addressing the inadequacies. Such comments and suggestions may be communicated to NCDC through: P.O. Box 7002, Kampala or E-mail admin@ncdc.go.ug or www.ncdc.go.ug.

DIRECTOR
NATIONAL CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT CENTRE

FOREWORD

The quality of education in a country is a major factor in its socio-economic development. Conscious of this fact, the Government of Uganda embarked on curriculum reviews intended to improve upon the education system at all levels. These reviews are guided by the Government Consultancy Report of 2005 which was done in light of and inspired by the measures government took earlier on:

- Government Report on Education Policy Review Commission (1989 Chaired by Kajubi);
- Government White Paper on the implementation of the recommendations of the report of the Education Policy Commission 1992
- Bazil Kiwanuka Report of the Curriculum Taskforce of 1993
- Implementation of UPE to increase accessibility without compromising quality, relevance and equity.

The Ministry of Education and Sports through NCDC has handled the review in three main phases namely:

- P1-3 Thematic Curriculum
- P4 the Transition year
- P5-7 the upper primary curriculum review.

At each level of review there were specific focuses. At P1-3 it was focused on development of literacy, numeracy, life skills and values. At P4 the focus was on addressing the transition and consolidating the achievements of thematic. While in Upper Primary (P5-7) the focus was to consolidate the language development and prepare learners for post primary education.

A curriculum of this kind is a guide to our development and is concerned with achievement of goals through a systematic coverage of content during the teaching/learning process in a given situation. This therefore makes it important in our educational system.

I, therefore, I call upon all stakeholders to participate effectively in the implementation of this curriculum and the enhancement of quality education in schools by playing their roles efficiently.

Dr. Y. K. Nsubuga

MINISTRY OF EDUCATION AND SPORTS

1.0 Introduction

This Primary Five Curriculum was developed after the Thematic Curriculum and the P4 Transition Curriculum based on subjects. It was designed to address overflows from earlier classes, content overload and unnecessary overlaps of topics. The P5 Curriculum is presented in two sets of documents. Set One comprises of English, Integrated Science, Local Language, Mathematics and Religious Education (Christian Religious Education & Islamic Religious Education while Set Two comprises of Creative Arts and Physical Education.

This is Set One Curriculum. This Curriculum is intended to address the following national aims of education in general and the aims and objectives of primary education in particular as outlined in the Government White Paper on the Education Policy Review Commission Report (1992):

2.0 The National Aims of Education

- (a) To promote understanding and appreciation of the value of national unity, patriotism and cultural heritage, with due consideration to internal relations and beneficial interdependence;
- (b) To inculcate moral, ethical and spiritual values in the individual and to develop self discipline, integrity, tolerance and human fellowship.
- (c) To inculcate into Ugandans a sense of service, duty and leadership for participation in civic, social and national affairs through group activities in educational institutions and the community.
- (d) To promote scientific, technical and cultural knowledge, skills and attitudes needed to enhance individual and national development.
- (e) To eradicate illiteracy and equip the individual with basic skills and knowledge to exploit the environment for self-development as well as national development; for better health, nutrition and family life, and the capacity for continued learning; and
- (f) To equip the learners with the ability to contribute to the building of an integrated, self-sustaining and independent national economy.

3.0 Aims and Objectives of Primary Education in Uganda

At the Primary education level, the national aims of education can be translated to include the following aims and objectives:

- 1. To enable individuals to acquire functional literacy, numeracy and communication skills in Ugandan languages and English.
- 2. To develop and maintain sound mental and physical health.
- 3. To instill the value of living and working cooperatively with other people and caring for others in the community.
- 4. To develop cultural, moral and spiritual values of life.

5. To inculcate an understanding of and appreciation, for, the protection and utilization of the natural environment using scientific and technological knowledge.
6. To develop a sense of patriotism and unity, an understanding of one's rights and responsibilities and an appreciation of the need to participate actively in civic matters.
7. To develop the pre-requisite for continuing education and development.
8. To develop adequate practical skills for making a living.
9. To develop appreciation for the dignity of work and for making a living by one's honest effort.
10. To develop the ability to use the problem-solving approach in various life situations; and
11. To develop discipline and good manners.

4.0 Rationale

At P5, the curriculum takes into account the fact that:

At P1- P3, the emphasis had been development of literacy and numeracy, life skills, values and attitude.

- In P4 the transition year learners were introduced to subject based learning, using English as the medium of instruction.
- P4 learning consolidated the achievements of P1 - P3 learning.

This P5 curriculum is meant to further consolidate the achievements of the earlier classes. Each subject has stated learning outcomes for each topic; content and language competences. It is also intended to provide the learners with basic knowledge in the various subjects, skills, attitudes, practices and values important for learners of P5 to prepare them for:

- Secondary education.
- The world of work.
- Scientific and technical application of knowledge.
- Life skills.

5.0 Structure of the Curriculum

5.1 Subjects in P5 Curriculum

The Primary Five Curriculum consists of the following subjects:

- | | |
|-------------------|------------------------------------|
| 1. English | 4. Integrated Science |
| 2. Mathematics | 5. Local Language |
| 3. Social Studies | 6. CAPE 1 – Music, Dance and Drama |

7. CAPE 2 – Physical Education
8. CAPE 3 – Art & Technology
9. Religious Education:
 - Christian Religious Education
 - Islamic Religious Education

5.2 What the Review Addressed

Basically there has been minimal change of topics in all the subjects of P5 curriculum. There will be no need for change in instructional materials. There are few topics shifting without much change in content apart from making content presentations simple and light for learners of P5. In each subject a matrix indicating how topics have shifted has been included. Such matrix display how overflows from earlier classes, overlaps, overtones, and unnecessary repetition have been addressed.

Language competences have been expressed in each topic of every subject. Teachers will be required to pay attention to these.

6.0 General Methodology

The P5 pupils are expected to have developed sufficient basic literacy skills both in local languages and English. In each syllabus, development of content and concepts has been arranged in a progressive manner according to the learners' interests, progress and ability. The teacher is expected to enhance learning through the most effective learner-centred activities. The teacher will be expected to facilitate learning as the learners do the activity based learning.

In each subject, the methods a teacher chooses to use should be those which contribute towards the achievements of the competences, learning outcomes and eventually lead to the achievements of the aims and objectives of Primary Education stated above. At Primary Five the methods used should prepare learners for effective participation in further study of the topics in upper classes and eventually in secondary level.

7.0 Assessment Guidelines

In principle, continuous assessment is recommended in each subject. The assessment shall be based on the summarized competences suggested in each subject. The teacher is expected to manage the records of learners' results on the activities they do as learning progresses.

Like in the earlier classes, the guidelines have been provided in each subject to guide the teacher carry out, manage, keep records and utilize assessment results at various stages of learning. Records shall be kept on each individual learner, class progress and end of term performance. The teacher is encouraged to record those innovative products of learners that may not have been planned but are indicators of positive progress of a learner. The teacher is reminded that learners of P5 are already anxious about PLE and therefore need to be prepared for it. There should be regulator pen and paper assessments reflecting what is similar to PLE situations.

English

Background

English language has been, and still is, an important subject on the primary school curriculum. Children are expected to be fluent in this language by the end of the primary school.

In P.4, English language was used as a medium of instruction you were allowed. The English syllabus for P.5 has been prepared to provide the learner with opportunities to fully utilize the vocabulary and structures learnt in previous classes.

Unlike in P.4, which was a bilingual class, P.5 teaching will fully be carried out in English. The topics suggested here will consolidate on what has so far life situation. This provides an opportunity for the learner to practice what is learnt in class.

Rationale

Uganda is a multilingual society where over thirty indigenous languages are spoken. Until recently, when Kiswahili was declared to be the second official language, English has been and will continue to be the first official language. For this reason, English is a subject taught from the primary to secondary levels to enable learners communicate and access information which is in English.

General outcomes of teaching English in primary schools

By the end of Primary Five learners will have:

- Acquired effective use of the four basic language skills, that is, listening, speaking, reading and writing.
- Developed the confidence to use English in both oral and written forms.
- Acquired the appropriate language to use in a variety of situations.

Organization of the Syllabus

This P.5 syllabus has been arranged in matrix. The scope and sequence has been organized around eight topics. Some of the topics have sub-topics. Competences to be developed have been suggested with activities related to the content. As you may be aware, in the English language subject, the only new content taught is vocabulary and structures. This content is consolidated dialogues, composition, reading comprehension, rhymes, poems and language games.

You should therefore, ensure that each week, some vocabulary, (at least four but not more than five) is taught, with one structure. Several periods for each topic have also been provided in the syllabus.

Methodology

Effective language teaching calls for active participation of learners. Learners should therefore be given adequate opportunity to practice the vocabulary and structures learnt. Oral practice should always be given before written practice. The teacher should always use generic methods such as demonstration, discovery, role-play, research, group work, creative writing, drawing and reporting.

Teaching procedure

It is suggested that English in P5 could be taught using the following steps.

1. vocabulary

- Step 1: Revise any related learnt vocabulary.
- Step 2: Teach the new vocabulary using real objects, pictures or demonstration.
- Step 3: Encourage learners to practice the pronunciation of the new vocabulary in groups, pairs and individually.
- Step 4: Guide learners to use the new vocabulary using the structures(s) previously learnt.
- Step 5: Ask learners to make sentences in groups and then in pairs.
- Step 6: Let learners write sentences in their books. You can also ask them to draw pictures relating to the vocabulary.

2. Structures

- Step 1: Revise the vocabulary taught in the previous lesson.
- Step 2: Present the new structures using demonstration.
- Step 3: Guide learners to orally practice the structures in groups, pairs and individually.
- Step 4: Let learners do a written practice using the structures.

Note: Remember, one structure should be taught in a given lesson.

3. Reading Comprehension

- Step 1: Revise the structures and vocabulary previously learnt
- Step 2: Discuss the text using pictures or stories.
- Step 3: Set guiding questions and let the learners silently read the text. Put emphasis on the correct reading habits.
- Step 4: Using guiding questions, discuss the text in a plenary.
- Step 5: Let the learners in groups, discuss the comprehension question about the text.
- Step 6: Let the learners write the answers in their note books. Encourage them to write full sentences. You may also ask the learners to summarize the text through drawings or paraphrasing.

Handling writing and spelling

Although learners are now in the upper primary, the issue of handwriting should still be emphasized. Learners with poor handwritings should be helped. For spelling, this should be done every day and whenever errors are made.

Instructional Materials

No successful teaching can be attained without use of appropriate instructional materials. The teacher is therefore encouraged to use instructional materials appropriate to the content. The teacher can use real objects, pictures, story books, reading cards, newspaper cutting, and many others.

Assessment

Continuous assessment is strongly recommended. This is because it enables the teacher to assess the progress of the learner so as to provide assistance where it may be required. The syllabus suggests competences to be assessed at the end of each topic.

The teacher should always keep records of the performance of each of the learners. Progression to a new topic or language area should always be done after the learner has shown the readiness to move on.

TERM I

TOPIC 1: VEHICLE REPAIR AND MAINTENANCE

23 periods

General background

This topic will enable learners to develop knowledge of crucial vehicle parts and identify tools required in vehicle repair and maintenance. Through this topic, learners will also be helped to develop appropriate language related to vehicle repair and maintenance. It is hoped that through the various suggested activities, learners will appreciate the need to have well maintained vehicles which may in turn reduce accidents caused by vehicles in dangerous mechanical condition.

Learning outcome

The learner is able to use appropriate vocabulary related to vehicle repair and maintenance.

TERM III

TOPIC 7: PEACE AND SECURITY

15 periods

General background

This topic will enable learners to develop vocabulary related to peace and security. It will enable them acquire appropriate language necessary for harmonious living.

Learning outcome

The learner is able to use the vocabulary and structures related to security and peace in real life situations.

Life skills and indicators

- Non – violent conflict resolution.
 - Resolving issues peacefully.
 - Using appropriate language.
 - Accepting defeat.
 - Assisting others to come to an understanding.
 - Reporting bad acts.
- Negotiation
 - Temper control.
 - Using persuasive language.
 - Apologizing.
 - Requesting.
 - Thanking.
- Interpersonal relationships
 - Forgiving others.
 - Interacting freely.
- Values
 - Appreciation
 - Care
 - Love
 - Respect

Suggested Competences for Assessment

- Listens and reads stories about peace and security.
- Reads texts about peace and security.
- Writes/draws scenes about peace and security.

TOPIC 8: SERVICES (BANKING)

16 periods

General Background

This topic will build on what was covered in P.3 (Theme 7 under Managing Resources). It will enable learners develop the basic language and skills related to banking which will be used in real life situations.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to apply the knowledge and skills acquired in real life situations.

Life Skills and Indicators

- Decision making
 - Making choices
 - Asking questions
 - Giving instructions
 - Coping with stress
 - Being patient
 - Accepting advice
- Negotiation
 - Requesting
 - Thanking
- Values
 - Appreciation.

Integrated Science

Background

This is Primary Five Science Syllabus. In Primary 1-3 learning is based on themes, learning outcomes and competences. Most of the Science related competences are covered under the literacy strands of the Thematic Curriculum. In Primary Four learning was based on subjects and the Science Syllabus outlined learning outcomes, content and language competences.

Learners in Primary Five are expected to have developed sufficient basic literacy skills both in local and English language. The teacher can now use English only as a medium of instruction. The teacher is required to check from time to time if learners understand the concepts correctly and are able to consolidate what was acquired in earlier classes.

The instructional process will follow what was in the old syllabus and teachers will be required to use the old instructional materials.

Rationale

This revised Primary Five (P5) Science syllabus has been designed to consolidate the basic literacy and numeracy skills acquired during the Thematic Curriculum and the transition year. It is also intended to provide the learner with knowledge on basic science, health, agriculture and environmental knowledge, skills, attitudes, practice and values important to prepare learners for upper classes.

The main changes which have been made in this Primary Five syllabus are:

- Topic overflows from P4 e.g. the Digestive Systems and measurements have been included. Topics like Primary Health Care, part of Digestive System from has been simplified and is presented for P5. These are shown in the matrix below on topic shifts.
- Contents in some topics have been reduced in order to keep the learning experience light and simple. The more complex content has been shifted to upper classes while others have been redesigned to suit P5 learners' level.
- The scope and sequencing of content has been based on progression of outcomes and competences.
- Literacy skills and Language competences have been included in each topic to clarify concepts.
- Possible life skills which can be developed have been suggested in each topic.
- Subject competences and language competences have been included to replace objectives. These are arranged in order of cognitive levels namely knowledge, comprehension and application.
- Language competences have been included especially to reinforce literacy skills and to help clarify concepts.
- General outcomes instead of aims and objectives have been provided for each topic.
- The background for each topic has been given together with other necessary guidance to the teacher on how to handle the topic.

General Methodology

It is strongly suggested that the teacher uses those methods and activities which put the learner at the centre of the teaching/learning process. The active verbs used in expressing the learning competences are all directed to the learner. This implies that as a result of teaching/learning process, the learner should exhibit these competences.

The teacher of Integrated Science is expected to use a variety of books of the old curriculum. This will not enrich teachers content but will help the teacher to prepare the correct contents on the topics. The teacher is expected to constantly help relate science to real life situations and experiences. Not all schools in Uganda may have same learning environment. The teacher should feel free to use examples which provide the learner with the opportunity to acquire the same knowledge, concepts, skills, values and competences.

The methods a teacher chooses to use should be those which contribute towards the achievement of competences, learning outcomes and eventually lead to the achievements of aims and objectives of primary education. Such methods therefore, should cater for the spiral nature of the science syllabus. At Primary Four the topics introduced and content covered should pave way for further study of the topics in upper classes. Primary four class will be useful in preparing learners for effective participating in P5-7.

Assessment Guidelines

In principle continuous assessment is recommended and should be based on the summarized competences suggested in each topic. All assessments of learning shall be based on the learning competences given in this syllabus. Besides the Continuous Assessment, there shall be end of term and end of year assessment carried out and records kept.

General Learning Outcomes

When the learners go through this syllabus they will be able to:

- Survey, identify and distinguish the attributes of plants, animals, other objects and conditions in the environment.
- Use characteristics to compare and classify animals, plants and other objects in the environment.
- Identify the features and describe the functions of different parts of the human body.
- Take care of the different parts of their bodies and practice good health habits.
- Keep safe and avoid accidents.
- Understand the conditions for proper growth of living things.
- Apply correct scientific processes in investigations of various phenomena.
- Show knowledge of and take care of the environment for its sustainable use.

TERM I

THEME: SCIENCE IN HUMAN ACTIVITIES AND OCCUPATIONS

Topic: Keeping Poultry and Bees

General Background

Keeping poultry and bees is a very important topic which helps learners to develop interest and basic skills for managing simple projects like poultry and bee keeping for self reliance. It is important to note that this topic will help learners to appreciate poultry and bee farming as a business. This topic has been retained from the old syllabus.

Learning Outcome

- The learner is able to know and use basic scientific knowledge and skills in the management of poultry and bees.

THEME: MATTER AND ENERGY

Topic: Measurement

General Background

This topic should be used for increasing the learner's skills of taking accurate measurements with the correct units and using different instruments and apparatus. The teacher should show the relationship between mass and weight between capacity and volume. The language of measuring must be used correctly with demonstrations to explain the meanings; as well as such as heavy and light, big and small, floating and sinking. The topic is a preparation for the future lessons on energy and so should be carefully taught with learners doing experiments. The teacher should relate this topic with what is taught in Mathematics. This topic is an overflow from P4 Term Two.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to know standard units for measuring mass, weight and volume and use correct instruments to measure mass, weight and volume.

THEME: HUMAN HEALTH

Topic: Immunisation

General background

Many children's lives have perished due to diseases we could easily avoid. Learners should be made aware of the ways of preventing the deadly childhood diseases. Immunization is an important and most effective means of protecting the young from the killer diseases. The learners should therefore be vigilantly made to appreciate and take part in the immunization activities. This topic has been retained but taken from Term Two to Term One.

Learning outcome

The learner is able to develop more knowledge on immunization, appreciate the importance of immunizations and actively take part in the immunization activities.

THEME: HUMAN BODY

Topic: The Digestive System

General background

Learners now know the major organs of the body and their locations. The teacher should make sure that learners understand that the digestive system consists of different organs with different functions. You should relate digestive diseases with diarrhoea diseases learnt in Primary Four. This topic should be used for increasing skills of good feeding habits in order to have a healthy digestive system. This topic is an overflow from P4 term 3 and also taken from P7 Term 1 and merged.

Learning outcome

- The learner acquires knowledge about the organs of the digestive system and what happens to food within the system.
- Appreciate the importance of the digestive organs of the human body.

TERM II

THEME: THE ENVIRONMENT

Topic: Components of the Environment “Soil”

General background

The environment is not a new theme. At this level learners should be guided to study soil which is a major component of the environment. Soil is composed of many living and non-living substances which makes things to co-exist. The learners should be helped to find out how soil helps people to survive and its relationship with other components of the environment. Experiments should be carried out to find the components of soil. This topic existed here and has been retained.

Learning outcome

The learner is able to:

- Recognize causes of soil degradation.
- Demonstrate good practices of conserving and protecting soil.
- Appreciate the importance of soil in nature.

THEME: MATTER AND ENERGY

Topic: Heat Energy

General Background

Learners have been introduced to matter and energy in Term I. They learnt terms like mass, volume and density. You should build on what they learnt to introduce states of matter and forms of energy. Guide learners to identify the difference between types and forms of energy. Heat is a very essential form of energy in our day to day life. It provides optimum warmth for plant and animal growth. Many changes essential for the survival of the ecosystem. Learners should practically be exposed to the effects of heat in matter. This will enhance the understanding of their own environment and get ways of manipulating it and hence improving their lives. This topic existed in Term ... but has been taken to Term Two.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to use basic scientific knowledge on effects of heat on things in the environment and demonstrate skills of investigating effects of heat on matter.

THEME: SCIENCE IN HUMAN ACTIVITIES AND OCCUPATIONS

Topic: Occupations in Our Community: Crop Growing

General background

Learners already have the basic knowledge and skills about the growing of crops in general. In this topic the teacher is required to guide the learners on how to grow and care for the common tuber crops in their locality and select one for a sample study.

It is important to note that exposing learners to seeing, feeling, smelling and other practical activities enhances understanding and development of the concepts and skills you intend to develop in learners. This topic existed in Term Three but has been brought to Term Two.

Learning outcome

The learner is able to show knowledge about common tuber crops, demonstrate growing tuber crops and appreciate the importance of proper harvesting, processing and storing tuber crops.

THEME: THE WORLD OF LIVING THINGS

Topic: Bacteria and Fungi

General background

Learners are already aware of germs as disease agents. In this topic, the teacher is supported to create awareness in learners about bacteria and fungi as disease agents. It is also important to note that some bacteria and fungi are useful to our day-to-day life experiences. Practical opportunity if possible should be availed to the learners to observe samples of bacteria and fungi under the microscope. This topic existed in Term Three but has been brought to Term Two.

Learning outcome

The learner is able to use scientific knowledge and skills about bacteria and fungi as disease agents and how they can be used to solve problems of everyday experiences.

TERM III

THEME 5: MANAGING CHANGES IN THE ENVIRONMENT

Topic 1: Types of Changes – Biological, Physical and Chemical Changes

General background

There are many changes that happen to living organisms as they grow. Changes also happen to other things in the environment and the atmosphere.

In P4 the learners learnt about changes in the water cycle. They also learnt about changes caused by heat to different things in the environment. You build on what has been learnt to guide learners to understand the different changes like those they may experience. Child growth and monitoring cards should be used to develop an understanding of biological changes. Note that physical and chemical changes happen in our environment now and then. You should focus on daily experiences which are familiar and which the learners can easily learn from. This topic has been retained but taken to Term Three.

Learning outcome

THEME 5: SCIENCE IN HUMAN ACTIVITIES AND OCCUPATIONS

Topic 2: Keeping Goats, Sheep and Pigs

General background

Learners have already learnt about the keeping of rabbits in P4. In this topic, the teacher should build on that scientific knowledge to guide learners to keep other bigger animals like goats, sheep and pigs.

It is important to arrange field visits to nearby animal farms to emphasize the importance and skills of keeping goats, sheep and pigs. This topic existed in term one but has been taken to Term Three.

Learning outcome

THEME 5: HUMAN HEALTH

Topic 3: Food and Nutrition

General Background

Food and Nutrition is a primary aspect of life for both plants and animals. Food is important for growth and development of living things. In P4 the learners learnt the need for food and classified available foodstuffs under classes of carbohydrates, proteins, vitamins and minerals. Learners will now learn the advantages and disadvantages of breast feeding, bottle feeding, traditional customs and food taboos.

You should guide the learners to tell the importance of feeding the vulnerable groups of people well. Lead learners to discuss appropriate and prevailing views on the right use of the staple foods in the community. This will enable them increase their knowledge on proper food and nutrition and acquire skills for feeding people with different needs in the community. This topic existed in Term Two but has been taken to Term Three.

Learning Outcome

Topic 4: Primary Health Care (PHC)

General Background

In this topic, learners should be involved in activities which enable them to carry out health activities that use the knowledge they have so far gained in health education theories. Community hygiene activities at this level should mainly be confined to school keeping the compound clean disposing rubbish, latrine, hygiene, etc to be an example to the community. This topic was merged from P5 Term Three, P6 Term two and P7 Term one.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to apply knowledge of the elements and principles of Primary Health Care for improved quality of life.

Local Language

Background

This is a primary Five Local Language Syllabus. Local Language means the language of the locality where the school is situated. In some cases such as army schools which are bound to use Kiswahili, it may be a language decided on for convenience. Local Language teaching at Primary Five will focus on language in use plus some grammar. Culture and life skills will also be taught.

Rationale

One of the National Aims of Education as stipulated in the Government White Paper is to “promote understanding and appreciation of the value of national unity, patriotism and cultural heritage, with due consideration to internal relations and beneficial interdependence”. Patriotism for one’s country can only be achieved if learners are taught to respect and love their heritage, languages, communities, districts and eventually pride in being a Ugandan. Learning the grammar of a familiar language will give the learner a background to learning other languages in future.

General Aims of Teaching a Local language

When the learners go through this Syllabus, they will be able to:

1. Demonstrate permanent functional literacy.
2. Communicate effectively in Local Language.
3. Listen attentively and respond accurately and appropriately to instructions / directions.
4. Use correct language pattern / system in writing.
5. Explain the significance of cultural practices and rituals.
6. Create original stories around given situations.
7. Read a given text fluently with high level of comprehension.
8. Write stories, texts, reports or letters with correct use of orthography, structures and punctuation.
9. Develop a sense of pride for his/her language and culture and respect for other people’s culture.

General Methodology

It is strongly advisable that learners are taught using participatory methods. Local Language like any other language should be taught to the learners focusing on the four basic language skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing. In every topic the aspects of culture related to that topic should be taught for example proverbs or taboos.

Methodology for Specific language aspects

a) Orthography:

Though this was handled in Primary Three and Four, there is need to continue reminding learners of the rules of orthography whenever grammar is being taught.

b) Comprehension:

Learners should be availed with a number of reading texts. These will not only be used for comprehension but also for teaching punctuation, tenses, prepositions, and other aspects of grammar.

c) Oral Literature forms:

These are: proverbs, similes, metaphors and idioms. These should be taught in relation to the topic at hand, for example, a topic on environment can be used to teach proverbs or taboos related to environment.

d) Culture:

Language and culture are inseparable. The morals, values, responsibilities are taught through culture. Aspects of culture should be taught as various topics, for example, if you teach about meetings you can teach about sayings referring to meetings.

e) Penmanship:

Language teaching aims at making learners functionally literate. They learn to communicate effectively both orally and in writing. Whenever there is a writing activity, the learner should be helped and reminded to write legibly.

f) Punctuation:

This is an important aspect of writing but should be taught using texts where the punctuation marks have been used.

6.0 Hints to the Teacher

The teacher needs to develop certain interests and engage in certain activities in order to manage the teaching and learning process properly, for example, by:

- a) Collecting materials and information about culture of that community (where the school is) such as names of people, places, objects, landmarks, their origin and meaning.
Practices of the people, child rearing, dressing habits, religious beliefs, cures for common illnesses, beliefs about certain diseases, occupations and implements social behaviour e.g. greetings and values, historical data on the villages in the neighbourhood.
- b) Visiting places of cultural interest in that area and find out what those people cherish.
- c) Assessing your culture objectively and find ways to add to or improve on that culture.
- d) Treating other people's cultures with understanding and teach learners to do the same.

NB:

For the topics which are not language related like Human Rights, Child Labour, HIV and AIDS and so on. You are expected to concentrate more on the grammar, vocabulary and the structures used. The learners, however, will learn the content of the text through comprehension.

7.0 Materials to be used

These include charts, books, news captions, concrete materials, art facts books. These could be prepared by the teacher, photocopied, bought or borrowed.

8.0 Assessment:

Assessment is a very important part of the learning process, as it indicates where the strength and weaknesses in the learning and teaching process are.

You are expected to determine the learners' achievement through:

- a) Observation (of behaviour and life skills).
- b) Continuous assessment (of topic, unit or week)
- c) Examinations (for instance at the end of the term or year)

Besides continuous assessment and end of term, there should be end of year examinations but must have a bearing on the records kept every term.

TERM 1

TOPIC 1: LANGUAGE USED IN DIFFERENT PUBLIC PLACES

RATIONALE

The learner at this stage is beginning to be exposed to several public places, such as churches, schools and markets among others. It is therefore important for the learner to learn the appropriate language and behaviour expected of him/her while in those places.

BACKGROUND TO THE TOPIC

At this level, there is a lot of communication among learners both at school and at the community level where they stay. They therefore need to be conversant with different salutations and the appropriate language used in public places. It is important that you gather as much vocabulary as possible to cover the titles of different people, their roles and the appropriate language for effective communication.

LEARNING OUTCOME

The learner is able to communicate effectively in different public places to deliver accurate messages appropriately and effectively.

LIFE SKILLS

- Effective communication
Make sure the learners' responses are well structured in correct full sentences.
- Interpersonal relationships
Supervise the learners when working in groups.

Subject Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
The learner: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Identifies public places and the activities that go on in those places.• Creates stories about different places.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Names of public places.• Stories	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Identifying the different public places.• Describing public places mentioned.• Writing descriptive stories about the named places.• Completing/copying proverbs related to the public places.• Reading stories about named places.• Answering questions on stories read.

GUIDANCE TO THE TEACHER

- Through question and answer, ask learners to name public places they know in their community like: market or worship buildings.
- Divide the class into small groups and ask them to list activities that take place in those public places. This gives learners a chance to make friends and learn how to work with others.
- Make a table on the chalkboard with headings in two columns: Places and Activities and ask learners to match them.
- Discuss with the learners different situations in which polite language is required. Give learners a chance to share their experience, about what they know.
- Organize short activities of role-play depicting how people interact in those public places. Give learners a chance to volunteer for the role play. This will develop a skill of self-awareness.
- Let learners with Special Education Needs (SEN) be actively involved in all class activities. Encourage their peers to assist them.

TOPIC 2: MEETINGS

RATIONALE

Meetings can be cultural, political or official. This topic will focus on cultural and political meetings. The learner will be exposed to special vocabulary and structures used in such meetings. This will prepare them to participate in such meetings effectively in future.

BACKGROUND

This topic will cover knowledge, vocabulary and procedure of conducting cultural and political meetings. You are therefore expected to make enough research about the two types of meetings. Make research on cultural meetings and campaign speeches in order to have the required content to teach.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

The learner is able to acquire vocabulary, knowledge, skills and procedures of conducting cultural and political meetings and demonstrate how a campaign speech is delivered.

LIFE SKILLS

- Self-awareness
The learner will be asked to talk about rituals in his/her respective culture.

- Effective communication
The learner will be encouraged to speak up fluently when giving contributions.
- Critical thinking
The learner will evaluate rituals in groups.

GUIDANCE TO THE TEACHER

- Ask learners to name different cultural rituals / ceremonies and their venues. List them on the chalkboard as they are generated. This helps the learners to be proud of what they are hence ~~boosting~~ ^{boosting} their self-esteem.
- Divide the class into small groups and let each draw a table showing different, participants in such meeting and their roles.
- After group presentations, lead a general discussion to ensure consistence across the groups.
- Ask learners individually to name and describe objects used and what they are used for.
- In small groups, let learners discuss how common rituals affect the candidates who undergo the activities performed. Help learners to critically evaluate the ritual hence develop critical thinking.
- Allow groups to report to the rest of the class. Allow comments from other groups.
- Ask groups to plan and role play the easiest ceremonies / rituals which can be performed by pupils in class.
- Start a proverb about rituals and ask learners to complete it, and then allow them to produce similar proverbs.
- Give a taboo related to a ceremony or a ritual and ask learners to give more taboos. Discuss each of the taboos briefly.
- Ask learners to describe political meetings they have ever attended.

- Give chance to shy and slow learners and those with different problems like speech to also participate fully in all class work. (Give them extra- time or any required help).
- Group learners and ask each group to produce an agenda for a meeting.
- Let each group present to the class as you comment on their presentations.
- Lead learners to describe the procedures.

TOPIC 3: HUMAN RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

RATIONALE

The Human Rights Charter was written in English and translated into other international languages. What learners have met are a few interpretations of that charter. They need to have a more informed discussion of those rights that concern them and those that concern their parents. This will help them to respect the rights of their parents as they negotiate for observance of their own.

BACKGROUND

Get a list of human rights, analyze them and compare them with children's rights. Find out from the community which children's rights are violated most. Research about the responsibilities of learners to self, parents, and communities.

LEARNING OUTCOME

Learners will construct sentences using conjunctions and plurals of nouns about human rights.

LIFE SKILLS

- Self-awareness
The learners will be taught one's position and responsibility.
- Problem-solving
Learners will evaluate facts about human rights.
- Effective communication
Learners will talk freely about instances when their rights had been violated.
- Critical thinking
Learners will respond to questions appropriately.

Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
The learner: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reads a text on Human Rights • Identifies the importance of human rights. • Explains instances which violate Human rights. • Describes children's responsibilities. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A text on Human rights e.g. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Identity - Nationality - Life/live • Violation of rights • Children's rights e.g. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - education - shelter - security • Children's responsibilities. • Compound sentence. • Conjunctions. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identifying a number of human rights. • Discussing human rights. • Discussing children's rights. • Describing instances of violations of human rights. • Giving examples of learners' rights. • Explaining children's responsibilities: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - to parents - to teachers - to community • Constructing compound sentences using conjunctions. • Generating conjunctions. • Listing examples of countable nouns. • Listing examples of uncountable nouns. • Giving plurals of countable nouns. • Changing sentences from singular to plural. • Using countable and uncountable nouns in sentences. • Nouns <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - countable - uncountable - plurals of countable nouns

GUIDANCE TO THE TEACHER

- In small groups, let learners list the children's rights they have heard about.
- Ask the groups to read what they have written as you make a general list of their rights on the chalkboard. (See appendix at the end of this syllabus).
- Help them to fill the gaps of what they have not spelt out properly and what is totally missing by comparing with the list you prepared.
- Explain to the learners what violation of rights is.
- In a general discussion of question and answer, ask them to describe instances where they think their rights were violated.
- Go through the preceding steps again to discuss general human rights.
- Compare and discuss the relationship between human rights and children's rights.
- Make two short related statements and ask learners to combine them into one.
- Ask them what words were used to join the sentences.
- Explain the role of conjunctions and ask them to construct similar sentences.
- Revise the meaning of nouns and ask for plurals.
- Help learners to notice how some nouns keep the same form when in plural as that of singular.
- Use examples to introduce the idea of countable and uncountable nouns.
- Identify the gifted learners in your class and let them take charge in assisting their peers in groups.
- Give extra time to the slow learners who will not grasp the new concepts in the expected time.
- Take time to identify other learners with particular exceptional behaviours like giving complaints and those who do not see or hear properly and allow them to sit in front.
- Do not punish those who always sleep in class, but talk to them. Find out their problems and counsel or guide them.

TERM II

TOPIC 1: MAKING USE OF READING MATERIALS

RATIONALE

Globally, information is mostly accessed through reading and researching on different topics / reading materials. In order to have the learners cope with this global experience, they should be guided in getting acquainted with various reading materials and how to use them.

BACKGROUND

By now, the learner is able to read but needs skills in categorizing the reading materials such as for interest. Learners are to be helped to acquire knowledge on the types of books like, novels, dictionaries and text books. They will also discuss the styles of reading according to one's intention of reading. You are therefore expected to provide the learners with a good variety of reading materials and to explain fully the materials, the content and how they are used depending on their intention.

LEARNING OUTCOME

The learner is able to identify different reading materials according to content and demonstrate the right style of reading with comprehension.

LIFE SKILLS

- Critical thinking
Learners will be helped to make the best use of the information availed.
- Effective communication
Learners will ask and answer questions.
- Problem-solving
Learners will identify different reading materials.
- Creative thinking
Learners will choose from the different styles of reading

Competences	Content	Activities
The learner: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Differentiates the types of reading materials and their importance and style of reading. • Explains the purpose for each style. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Types of reading materials e.g. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - News papers - Novels - Religious books and - Text books. • Purpose of different reading materials. • Style of reading. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identifying different types of reading materials according to content. • Explaining different purpose of reading. • Listening, asking and answering questions about the definition of skimming, scanning and reading for comprehension. • Scanning a text and answering comprehension questions. • Skimming a newspaper and answering questions. • Reading a text and answering comprehension questions. • Discussing the purpose for each style. • Answering questions on a text read.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Analyses the purposes for reading different types of materials. • Purpose for reading e.g. for Leisure e.g. novels Information e.g. Religious books Comprehension 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Purpose for reading e.g. for leisure (novels) or information (Religious books). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Comprehension • Poems, rhymes, songs 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identifying what to read. • Explaining uses of reading. • Scanning through a given document and answering question on it. • Concentrating on the reading. (for comprehension) • Reading poems or songs. • Answering questions on poems. • Discussing purposes for reading. • Reading a given text for comprehension.

GUIDANCE TO THE TEACHER

The guidelines here below may not be the only ones to follow but use your own experience depending on your environment and situation to enable the learner achieve the intended life skills and competences.

- Lead learners to name the reading materials they know as you list them on the chalkboard.
- Discuss the difference between the learning materials in terms of content and use.
- Demonstrate different types of reading using different materials as learners watch.
- Guide learners to practice different styles of reading.
- Give out a text which they can read for comprehension.
- Guide the learners to identify the main aspects in a reading material.
- Give out different materials and ask learners to identify and describe those main aspects of a reading material.
- Lead learners to compare reading materials according to content.
- Guide learners to brainstorm about the purpose of reading.
- Record and complement the responses.
- Ask the learners to write types of various texts about reading materials, purposes of reading and style of reading.
- Provide rhymes and poems for learners to read and give them oral questions.

TOPIC 2: MODERN COMMUNICATION

RATIONALE

Many learners have used some gadgets for modern communication like radio and telephone, although they may not be in a position to classify them. They are used in a similar role of communicating among human beings. In P.4, these learners discussed local media. Now there is need to teach them about modern means of receiving and sending information. The topic will enable them to match with global advanced information communication technology. They will also learn that apart from receiving, they can also search for information.

BACKGROUND

The learners already practise modern communication both at home, in the communities and at school. In P4 they learnt about the different types of local media on which they can now build the modern means of communication, thus from known to the unknown. Give learners as much exposure as possible as some of them may not easily comprehend what they have never seen.

LEARNING OUTCOME

The learner is able to identify the different types/items of modern communication, explain how they work and demonstrate appropriate skills and language when using different gadgets.

LIFE SKILLS

- Effective communication
Reading the text related to communication.
- Negotiation skills
Using the appropriate language depending on the media.
- Decision making
Making choice on the type of gadget to use. Asking and answering questions on phone.

Competences	Content	Activities
The learner; <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Identifies the different types of items / gadgets used in modern communication.• Explains how different types of gadgets are used in communication.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Types of items / gadgets used in modern communication.• Different ways each type of communication gadgets works.• Types of messages communicated by different kinds of communication gadgets.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Identifying different communication gadgets.• Observing the available communication gadgets.• Discussing different messages communicated by the different types of the communication gadgets.• Reading texts related to modern communication.• Writing different compositions on how different communication gadgets work.• Identifying types of messages communicated.• Writing a composition on how communication gadgets work.

GUIDANCE TO THE TEACHER

- Bring a radio to class and use it to start your lesson.
- Discuss with the class how a radio works, for example, what we get from it and who sends that information on the air waves.
- Talk about other gadgets which they are familiar with, start with those they have heard about and inform them about new ones.

- As you discuss, show the real objects or pictures of those gadgets.
- Remember to ask learners to name what sense we use to receive the communication from each gadget; (the eye/the ear)
- Guide composition writing about the use of one type of communication gadget they are familiar with such as radio or phone.
- Help learners to construct questions hence demonstrate the use of question marks.
- Teach about the comma, demonstrate its use.
- Give a written exercise on the use of a question mark and a comma.
- Construct compound sentences and teach learners how to insert commas for easy reading.

TOPIC 3: ADVANCED CREATIVE LANGUAGE

RATIONALE

Since the learners have been using the language in speech, reading and writing, they have acquired some level of competence. Using advanced creative language, learners will be exposed to texts that have information to be discussed. This will add to the variety of vocabulary and structures they already have in use.

BACKGROUND

This topic will cover reading a text on cultural and modern environmental conservation. These will initiate comprehension, debate, use of compound sentences and a comma. For practice and preparation for advanced creative language, you need to guide learners to practice writing paragraphs. You also need to prepare the text on environmental conservation ahead of time, which they will read for vocabulary, structures, punctuation and comprehension.

LEARNING OUTCOME

The learner is able to demonstrate the ability to read and comprehend a given text and use the most appropriate language to write on a given topic using correct grammar.

LIFE SKILLS

- Decision-making
Choosing methods of protecting the environment.
- Effective communication
 - Writing a composition.
 - Composing a text on objects.

- Critical thinking
 - Friendship formation.
 - Working in groups.

Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
The learner: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Constructs sentences related to environmental conservation methods. • Differentiates between modern and cultural environmental conservation. • Constructs compound sentences correctly. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Environmental conservation methods <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Cultural - Modern • Compound sentence and uses of a comma <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - breaking a sentence - naming things - titles e.g. Mrs, Mr. - on address - before quotation marks. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identifying environmental conservation methods, cultural or modern. • Reading a text on conservation. • Reading a text on environmental protection. • Answering questions in writing about the text on the modern and cultural environmental conservation. • Discussing the similarities and differences between modern and cultural methods of environmental conservation. • Constructing compound sentences. • Constructing sentences with a comma. • Describing and giving examples on the use of a comma.

Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
		poems. • Writing poems on a selected theme.

GUIDANCE TO THE TEACHER

- Guide learners to identify environmental conservation methods they know and group the methods in their respective categories.
- Note the good points on the blackboard.
- Give them a text on environmental concern to read for comprehension. Ask oral and written questions.
- Using examples, guide learners to select an object to write on.
- Demonstrate / work with them to produce a plot for the chosen topic.
- Let them practice writing a plot of a given topic in groups.
- Guide the groups to report as you comment.
- Present prepared poems to learners either on a chart or photocopies.
- Demonstrate several times how a poem is read as learners listen.
- Ask learners to practice reading a poem. Guide them as they read.
- Ask them to answer comprehension questions on the poem.

Note: Use text on environmental conservation and a poem on environmental concern.

TERM III

TOPIC 1: CHILD LABOUR

RATIONALE

Child labour is one form of child abuse and one of the things that have affected children's education and livelihood in general. This topic is intended to give learners awareness about effects and dangers of child labour so that they can make informed decisions when faced with certain conditions.

BACKGROUND

In this topic, learners will be exposed to a text on child labour which will highlight the definition, forms of child labour, its causes and consequences. You need to research on literature about child labour from KURET, International Rescue Committee, Naggulu or the Library so that you teach from an informed point of view.

LEARNING OUTCOME

The learner is able to demonstrate awareness of the information presented on child labour and use the text to practice grammar aspects in use.

LIFE SKILLS

- Assertiveness
Standing for one's right.
- Self esteem
Expressing likes and dislikes.
- Negotiation skills
Responding appropriately.
- Peer resistance
Standing by one's principles.

Subject Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
The learner: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reads a text on child labour. • Discusses the forms of child labour. • Answers questions on text. • Constructs correct sentences in present simple tense. • Constructs correct sentences in future tense. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Text on child labour focusing on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Forms - Child work - Causes - Consequences. • Comprehension • Present simple tense. • Future tense. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reading a text on child labour. • Answering questions on child labour text. • Discussing forms of child labour. • Making sentences in present tense. • Reading sentences in present tense. • Making sentences in future tense. • Writing sentences in future and present tense. • Acting a dialogue on child labour. • Writing messages against child labour.

GUIDANCE TO THE TEACHER

- Ask learners to brainstorm on what they understand by child labour. Complement by giving the definition.
- Guide a discussion by giving a few examples of forms of child labour to set the pace.
- Record the good responses on the chalkboard.
- Lead the discussion on the differences between child labour and child work.
- Record the differences given, then ask learners to copy them.
- Give two sentences in present simple tense and ask learners to give similar ones.
- Guide the presentation as you record the good ones.
- Tell the learners that those sentences are in present simple tense.
- Give two sentences in future tense.
- Ask learners to give similar sentences in future tense.
- Record the good responses.
- Let the learners read the sentences recorded.
- Let the learners copy the sentences in present and future tenses as examples and formulate their own in their books.
- Give an exercise in which learners change sentences from one tense to another.

Note: Brief notes on child labour have been provided at the end of this syllabus

TOPIC 2: HIV / AIDS

RATIONALE

HIV/AIDS is one of the most harmful infections commonly talked about in this era. It is a common belief in Uganda that every body knows what HIV/AIDS is, it's causes, its effect, and the way it spreads. Unfortunately it is not true because whenever HIV/AIDS is talked about, there is something new learnt. Learners at this age need to get information on HIV/AIDS for awareness, prevention and knowledge to help them avoid the epidemic. Much of the information available is in English, and in many of our cultures, talking about such topics has been a taboo. Bringing it up now in local language will enhance awareness.

BACKGROUND

In this topic, it is intended that you use a text on HIV/AIDS which spells out the causes, effects, spread, misconceptions and prevention measures. You are expected to prepare the text or to photocopy captions which have the facts before you teach the lesson. You are also expected to have read widely about HIV/AIDS so that you are informed. The text could also be used to teach comprehension, verbs, prepositions, tenses and even punctuation.

Using group discussion, learners can be guided to come up with a guided composition.

LEARNING OUTCOME

The learner is able to demonstrate knowledge and skills of dealing with HIV/AIDS and use the right grammar to write a composition about it.

LIFE SKILLS

- Self-awareness
Self-evaluation
- Coping with emotions
Being sensitive about other people's emotions.
- Critical thinking
Making the best use of the information you have.

Subject Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
The learner: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reads a text on HIV/AIDS. • Discusses a text on HIV/AIDS. • Writes a composition on HIV/AIDS. • Reads a poem on HIV/AIDS. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A text on HIV/AIDS focusing on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - What it is. - Ways it spreads. - Prevention. - Misconceptions. • Composition • A Poem 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reading a text on HIV/AIDS • Talking about the spread of HIV/AIDS. • Asking and answering questions. • Discussing the misconception held on HIV/AIDS. • Copying salient issues on HIV/AIDS e.g. what causes its transmission and prevention. • Writing a guided composition on HIV/AIDS. • Reciting a poem. • Reading a poem. • Discussing the messages in the poem. • Answering questions on the read poem. • Copies a poem on HIV/AIDS. • Answers written questions.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Constructs sentences using the present tense. • Writes legibly. 	Guided composition using present simple tense.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Talking about the choice of a topic. • Constructing sentences in the present tense. • Writing a composition.

GUIDANCE TO THE TEACHER

- Make research about HIV/AIDS and either prepare or photocopy a text with facts on AIDS.
- Hold a discussion with learners to gauge how much they know about HIV/AIDS in terms of definition, spread, prevention and effects.
- As the discussion progresses, record important points on the blackboard.
- Give a brief introduction on the text, and group the learners in preparation for reading the text, set the learners to read with a purpose.
- When the learners are through with the text, give oral questions about the text.
- Give written questions to be answered in writing individually.
- Demonstrate the correct use of present simple tense and ask learners to make similar sentences.

- Lead the learners to discuss the topics in line with HIV/AIDS.
- Remind the learners about the principles of writing a composition and set them to write individually.
- Either put up a chart with a poem on HIV/AIDS, or on any other disease or proverbs referring to HIV/AIDS or its effects. Guide the learners to read it several times.
- Lead the learners to answer questions on the poem.
- Summarises the important points on HIV/ AIDS and let learners copy them in their books.

TOPIC 3: LETTER WRITING

RATIONALE

Letter writing is a way of conveying an intended message to another person in written form. In this topic, learners will acquire knowledge and skills of writing informal letters. This will facilitate their communications with friends and the society they live in at large.

BACKGROUND

In this topic, you are expected to give learners plenty of practice in writing informal letters and compositions. There should be more emphasis put on the use of future tense and conditional sentences that is the 'if' clause. The skills expected to be acquired will help learners to communicate effectively.

LEARNING OUTCOME

The learner is able to write informal letters and compositions legibly and chronologically using the correct punctuations and tenses.

LIFE SKILLS

- Effective communication
Writing meaningful letters
- Assertiveness
Expressing one's point of view
- Coping with stress
Talking about personal problems

Subject Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
The learner: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Explains what an informal letter is. Identifies parts of an informal letter. Writes an informal letter with punctuation marks and proper tenses. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Informal letters Parts of an informal letter Punctuation marks Tenses 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Reading samples of informal letters. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Interprets proverbs. Reads proverbs. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Oral literature (proverbs) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Reading proverbs. Completing proverbs. Copying proverbs.

GUIDANCE TO THE TEACHER

- Hold a brain storming session to find out how much learners know about informal letters.
- Use the sample letters you have to explain the reasons for writing and the presentation.
- Emphasize salient issues like addresses, punctuation, date, chronological presentation of ideas, being brief, margins and grammar.

- Have sample letters, a text on peace education and a story on a chart for learners to read and identify salient parts of a letter. Have a collection of proverbs.
- Use conditional sentences (if) and future simple tense as you present each item.
- Encourage learners to use punctuation marks correctly as they read and write.
- Emphasize legibility as they write.
- Guide learners to practice writing informal letters either in groups or individually.
- Present the text on peace education and explain briefly what it is about.
- Group learners and instruct them to read silently as you supervise.
- Organize for the answering of questions either orally or in writing or a filling in exercise.
- Guide a discussion on things that can cause or disrupt peace.

Note: These will give clues to aspects which can be used as titles.

- Guide a discussion to revise the parts of a composition and use one of the topics you have on the blackboard.
- As a class, let learners generate the plot of the composition through questions and answers.
- Demonstrate how this plot can be used when writing a composition.
- Use that sample to revise the major parts of a composition.
- Ask learners to write a composition on a peace-related topic.
- Provide proverbs and ask learners to generate more proverbs.
- Guide learners to copy the proverbs generated with proper spelling and punctuation.

Note: Your chart containing proverbs could be pinned up in class for further reading.

APPENDIX I: ON HUMAN RIGHTS

Mathematics

Introduction

This mathematics syllabus has been divided into six themes and twelve topics.

The Themes are: Sets, Numeracy, Interpretation of Graphs and Data, Measurements, Geometry and Algebra.

The topics include:

- | | | |
|-------------------------------|-----------------|--|
| • Set concepts | • Fractions. | • Length, Mass and Capacity |
| • Whole numbers | • Data handling | • Lines, Angles and Geometric figures. |
| • Operations on whole numbers | • Money | • Integers |
| • Patterns and sequences | • Time | • Algebra |

The scope and sequence has been designed in such a way that the topics have been further broken down into manageable teachable sub-topics. The material in this mathematics syllabus differs markedly from the traditional Mathematics in that it is more directly concerned with application of mathematics in everyday life. A brief background has been made for each topic, which lays a firm foundation for the concept to be developed.

Mathematics has been allocated six (6) lessons per week. Some of the exercises are supposed to be done outside the allocated time. Encourage the learners to always do maths in their time.

Rationale

The constant use of the mathematical approach to situations and formation of important concepts are the main aims of this syllabus. Often familiar facts are emphasized to illustrate a mathematical idea so that a concept can be firmly established before being used to discover new facts.

Throughout the primary school, emphasis should be laid on recording, reporting and discussing investigations carried out.

Mental mathematics and its integration into other subjects must be encouraged. This will in turn make the learning of mathematics much easier and interesting. Remember the learner may know much more than you expect him/her to know. Practical work will therefore play a big role in consolidating what the learner already knows before new ideas are brought in.

A four step plan is one of the strategies a mathematics teacher and learner may use to solve a problem. Understanding the problem is the first step to solving it.

UNDERSTAND	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Read and understand the problem. • Know what is given and what you have to find.
PLAN	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Make a plan. • Choose a problem-solving strategy.
WORK	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Carry out the plan. • Use the strategy and do any necessary calculations.
ANSWER	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Check any calculations and answer the problem. • Interpret the answer if necessary.

This syllabus if well implemented will go a long way in providing a foundation to a dynamic society.

SCOPE AND SEQUENCE

THEME 1: SETS

TOPIC: Set Concepts

In the previous classes, the learner was introduced to the concept of sets. This continues with the work on sets that has already been covered. The task for the teacher is to help learners draw examples from everyday life related to sets. As you introduce them to Venn diagrams and some notation in sets, they need enough practical work to master correct use of symbols and language used in set concepts.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to demonstrate the knowledge of sets to solve problems in real life situations.

Life Skills: Critical thinking, creative thinking, effective communication.

Subject Competences	Language Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
The learner: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Forms sets. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Names and describes the sets. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sets - Equivalent 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Forming and drawing the sets. • Drawing Venn diagrams.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Identifies the union and intersection of sets using Venn diagrams. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Distinguishes equal sets from equivalent sets. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Empty Equal Union of sets Intersection of sets Venn diagrams. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Identifying members of the union and intersection of sets on the Venn diagram. Drawing Venn diagrams and using them.

Teacher's Notes

- Let the learners form different sets of objects of different colours, shapes and different numbers.
- The learners should pick two sets and compare the number of members of each set to find out whether the sets are equal or equivalent.
- The learners should identify the common members of the sets being compared.
- Guide the learners to draw Venn diagrams.
- Introduce different shapes of Venn diagrams to the learners.

Assessment Competences

The learner is able to:

1. Form sets
2. Draw Venn diagrams to show union and intersection of sets.
3. Write down the union and intersection of sets from given sets.

THEME 2: NUMERACY

TOPIC: 1 Whole Numbers

This topic provides the basis for learners to develop the attitude of determination to solve problems in real life by calculation. It is when the learner can properly count, read and write whole numbers that he/she can eventually be introduced to operations on numbers. Let the learner use examples of real objects, such as cows, goats, chairs, etc.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to appreciate the need of counting in everyday life and work with whole numbers up to 999,999.

Life Skills

- Critical thinking.
- Problem-solving.

Subject Competences	Language Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
The learner: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Identifies place value of each digit in 6 digit numbers.• Finds values of digits.• Expands six digit numbers.• Rounds off whole numbers to the nearest ten thousands.• Reads and writes Roman numerals.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Names place values up to millions.• Reads numbers in expanded form.• Writes expanded numbers in words.• Reads and writes Roman numerals up to fifty in words.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Numbers<ul style="list-style-type: none">- Place value- Value up to 999,999.- Natural numbers up to 999,999.- Rounding off whole numbers to nearest 10,000.- Roman numerals.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Identifying place values up to 6 digits.• Working out values of digits.• Rounding off whole numbers.• Reading and writes Roman numerals.• Converting Hindu – Arabic numerals to Roman and vice versa.

Teacher's Notes

- Let the learners make abaci. The abacus should be used in naming and identifying place values.
- Help the learners to round off the numbers using abacus. The meaning of placing a small Roman numeral on the left or right hand side of the bigger Roman numeral should be emphasized to the learners.

Assessment Competences

The learner is able to:

1. Name place values up to hundred thousand's.
2. Read and writes whole numbers up to 999,999.

TOPIC: 2 Operations on whole numbers

This topic should not be handled in isolation. The learner should be helped to realize that everyday they add something to another. For instance they add sugar to tea, salt to soup, welcome other members to our families, etc.

Always relate these operations to real life and bring out other words that will consolidate the concepts further, for example increase, decrease, reduce, more, less.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to use the four basic operations to solve problems.

Life Skills: Critical thinking.

Subject Competences	Language Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
The learner: - Adds whole numbers up to 6 digits with or without regrouping. - Solves word problems.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Describing the meaning of addition verbally. Teacher's notes

- Learners should be encouraged to use concrete objects when they are carrying out operations on numbers.
- Encourage your learners to always read aloud the mathematical problems to the whole class.
- Learners should always be reminded of the place values while carrying out operations on numbers.

Assessment Competences

The learner is able to:

- Add numbers up to 6 digits.
- Subtract numbers up to 6 digits.
- Multiply numbers up to 4 digits by 2 digit numbers.
- Divide whole numbers by 2 digit numbers.
- Use the four operations on whole numbers in word problems.
- Add and subtract numbers in Base Five.

TOPIC 3: Patterns and Sequences

New ideas like Lowest Common Multiple, Highest Common Factor, increasing and decreasing progression must be introduced gradually.

Use of mental work may be helpful in stimulating the learners' computation skills.

Learners will need a variety of patterns and sequence in order to discover the difference between the two and how one leads to the other.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to relate and apply simple computation skills involving patterns and sequence in real life situations.

Life Skills -

Critical thinking.

Creative thinking.

Problem-solving.

Teacher's Notes

Various patterns and sequences should be introduced to learners. Avoid giving examples only based on the common patterns and sequences. Let the learners form their own patterns and sequences and ask their colleagues to solve them.

Assessment Competences

The learner is able to:

1. Recognize types of numbers.
2. Read and write patterns and sequences of the different types of numbers.
3. Calculate the LCM and GCF.

TOPIC 4: Fractions

The idea of LCM and GCF will practically help the learner in working out the operations of addition and subtraction. Slowly, help them to use the idea of equivalent fractions, then L.C.M in adding and subtracting fractions. Emphasize to the learners concepts of reading and writing fractions correctly.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to solve problems involving fractions and relating them to real life situations.

Life Skills:

Teacher's Notes

- Bring out the concept of fractions with different denominators clearly by letting the learners cut parts of a whole object. The parts should be of different sizes.
- Let the learners name the parts they have cut as fractions of the whole object.
- The fractions named will have different denominators.
- Now let two or more learners put together (add) their parts.
- Ask them to name the new parts formed as a fraction of the original object.
- Revise the multiples of numbers and equivalent fractions.
- Learners should be helped to realize that to add or subtract fractions with different denominators, the knowledge of equivalent fractions and multiples is applied.

Assessment Competences

The learner is able to:

1. Carry out the four fundamental operations on fractions.
2. Solve real life problems related to fractions.

TERM II

THEME 2: NUMERACY

TOPIC 1: Fractions

Learners can be helped to read words like tenths and hundredths correctly. They must distinguish between the two and a number line will be of great help, if properly used. Then introduce to them addition and subtraction. There is also need to emphasize place value in order to add or subtract decimals.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to solve problems involving decimals related to real life situations.

---	--	---	---	--

Teacher's Notes

Revise a number line of whole numbers.

Put decimal numbers on a number line.

Lead the learners to understand that the place values for decimals start from tenth to hundredth and so on but they are to read from left to right and the value decrease from left to the right.

Assessment Competences

The learner is able to:

1. Use place value of digits to find values.
2. Arrange decimal fractions in order of size.
3. Convert decimal to vulgar fractions.
4. Add decimal fractions.
5. Subtract decimal fractions.
6. Solve simple word problems involving decimals.

THEME 3: GEOMETRY

TOPIC: Lines, Angles and Geometrical figures

The concept of geometry is intended to seek opportunities for drawing mathematical experience out of a wide range of activities and this includes identification and recognition of geometric figures like circles and regular polygons. Measurement and symmetry arise frequently in Art and Technology and many patterns have some geometric basis. It is therefore important that the practical approach be used as much as possible in order for the learner to conceive these ideas.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to recognize and constructs various geometric figures and relates them to other fields such as architectural drawings.

Life Skills

Creative thinking.

Effective communication.

Problem-solving.

Subject Competences	Language Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Draws and identifies parallel and perpendicular lines. - Draws and measures angles. - Constructs circles and regular hexagons. - Describes lines of symmetry. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identifies parallel and perpendicular lines. • Labels angles. • Reads and writes English sentences about the angles. • Describes in English the parts of circles. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Parallel and perpendicular. • Angles. • Circles and regular hexagons. • Simple lines of folding symmetry <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - rectangle - square - special triangles. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Constructs parallel lines. • Gives examples of parallel lines in their environment. • Uses geometric instruments to construct angles, circles and regular hexagons. • Practically folds various models to recognize and identify lines of folding symmetry. • Folding to form lines of symmetry.

Teacher's Notes

- Learners should identify objects in the classroom which have parallel and perpendicular sides.
- Encourage learners to have their own geometry sets.
- Guide the learners in drawing parallel and perpendicular lines.
- Practically, help the learners to construct a hexagon as you observe them carry out construction.
- Learners fold square, rectangular, triangular papers from lines of symmetry. After the practice, learners can describe what a line of symmetry is.

Assessment Competences

The learner is able to:

1. Construct parallel lines.
2. Use geometric instruments to construct angles, circles and regular hexagons.
3. Identify lines of folding symmetry.
4. Construct rotations and revolutions.

THEME 4: INTERPRETATION OF GRAPHS AND DATA

TOPIC 3: Data handling

Graphs are being used more and more in our daily life to present information in an interesting form. It is therefore important that learners be trained to read them. Learners should also be given enough practice in drawing them to ensure that they can apply the knowledge they have gained. Let them discover how information can be summarized into graphs.

Learners will easily acquire the intended skills if you make this topic fun and involve them in teams especially in the case of large classes. Let them discover how information can be summarized into graphs.

Learning outcome

The learner is able to interpret and solve problems involving graphs.

--	--	--	--

Teacher's Notes

This topic should be practical, for example, learners can be tasked to find out how they scored in the previous term. Let them record the marks scored and find the number of learners who scored those marks.

Let them record their findings in a table. Let the learners plot the number of learners on the Y-axis and marks scored on the X-axis. Guide them to draw graphs.

Assessment Competences

The learner is able to:

1. Draw graphs.
2. Represent and interpret graphs.
3. Work out average of data.

TOPIC 4: Time

This topic must at all cost be practical. It is through this that the learner will be able to read and write time correctly. Real clock faces will be a source of emphasizing phrases such as minutes to or minutes past.

Finding duration must be introduced gradually because it sometimes involves conversion of units of time.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to appreciate and apply the knowledge of time in real life situations.

Life Skills:

Effective communication.
Decision-making.
Problem-solving.

Subject Competences	Language Competences	Content	Suggested Activities
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Tells time on the 12 hour clock. - Recognizes minutes and seconds. - Finds duration. - Solves problems related to time, distance and speed. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reads and tells time verbally on the 12 hour clock. • Constructs sentences involving phrases of time. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Time on the 12 hour clock. • Duration. • Time, distance and speed. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reading and telling time up to the second. • Working out duration, given two points of time. • Calculating speed, distance and time using simple word problems.

Teacher's Notes

- Bring a physical (real) clock for the learners to see.
- Identify an hour, a minute and a second.
- Let the learners practice how to write time.
- Guide learners on how the phrases a.m. and p.m. are used.
- Introduce duration by using time in the same phase i.e. starting and ending time is either a.m. or p.m.
- Lead the learners in finding the relationship between speed, time and distance.

Assessment Competences

The learner is able to:

1. Tell time on the 12 hour clock.
2. Convert hours to minutes and vice versa.
3. Find duration.
4. Solve word problem involving time, distance and speed.

TERM III

THEME: MEASUREMENTS

Topic 1: Money

Since the learner has some background about money, refer to that as a foundation. In this class, insist on solving practical problems related to utilization of Uganda currency in everyday life situations. Use practical approaches as much as possible.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to solve practical problems related to utilization of Uganda currency in everyday life.

Life Skills

Problem-solving.

Logical thinking.

Effective communication.

<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Solves practical problems related to buying and selling using Uganda currency.• Costs and prices.• Computes simple profit and loss.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Role plays buying and selling using Uganda currency.• Uses practical examples to describe simple profit and loss.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Money.• Buying and selling.• Profit and loss.• Costs and prices.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Role playing buying and selling.• Computing and solving problems related to profit and loss.

Teacher's Notes

- Use question and answer approach.
- Let the learners role play the buying and selling.
- Learners should orally discuss the profit and loss and identify which condition leads to profit or loss.
- Let them relate buying, selling, profit and loss.

Assessment Competence

The learner is able to solve problems involving money.

TOPIC 2: Length, Mass and Capacity

This topic was explored in the previous classes. At this level, let the learners practice using standard instruments to measure length, mass and capacity accurately. Let them get involved in the practical measurement of length, mass and capacity before they can work out area, perimeter and problems involving mass and capacity. Do also encourage guided co-operative learning.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to recognize and use standard instruments and units for measuring length, mass and capacity.

Life Skills

Critical thinking,
Effective communication
Problem-solving.

Teacher's Notes

- Using a meter rule, let the learners find out how many centimetre are in metre. Guide them on how converting from metre to centimetre and vice versa is done.
- Get different containers marked with litres (l) and others marked milliliters (ml). Let the learners tell how many ml containers were used to fill the container marked l. Lead them in how to convert from litres to milliliters and vice versa.
- Let the learners recall how many grams are in one kilograms. Guide them on how to convert from kg to g and vice versa.

Assessment competences:

The learner is able to:

1. Calculate area and perimeter of plane figures.
2. Solve word problems involving length, mass and capacity.

THEME 2: NUMERACY

Topic 3: Integers

This is a new topic. Introduce it using the idea of the number line and do enough practical work with the learners.

Then introduce operations without a number line but give learners practical examples and allow them to give many more similar examples. By so doing, learners will slowly master the concept of integers.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to use the number line to properly work out problems related to integers.

Life Skills

Problem-solving.

Critical thinking.

Teacher’s Notes

- Introduce integers using number line which has both positive and negative numbers. Starting from the point marked 0 (zero), describe forward movement as positive movement and backward movement as negative movement.
- Positive movement is represented by positive numbers and negative movement by negative numbers.
- Let the learners relate positive and negative numbers to profit and loss respectively and other daily life experiences.

Assessment Competences

The learner is able to:

1. Draw number lines.
2. Add integers.
3. Subtract integers.
4. Use symbols to compare integers.
5. Solve simple word problems involving integers.

THEME 6: ALGEBRA

Topic 4: Algebra

This is not a new topic since it has already been explored in the previous classes. However, at this level, learners must get actively involved in solving of algebra problems. Use examples that learners are familiar with to get them into forming algebraic expressions.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to solve mathematical problems and puzzles using the knowledge of algebra.

Life Skills

Critical thinking.

Problem-solving.

Teacher's Notes

- Introduce this topic by using a lot of mental work. Write the problem on the blackboard with numbers missing. Let the learners solve the missing number. Refer to the missing number as the unknown. Use the alphabet letters to represent the unknown.
- Introduce the term “like terms”, guide the learners on how mathematical operations are carried out on “like terms” and finally solve for the unknown.
- Give many numbers to learners to solve on their own.

Assessment Competences

The learner is able to:

- Solve equations.
- Simplify algebraic expressions.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

(A) Christian Religious Education Syllabus

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Background

This is Primary Five Religious Education Syllabus. In Primary 1 – 3 learning is based on themes, learning outcomes and competences. Most of the religious related competences are covered under the literacy strands of the Thematic Curriculum.

In Primary Four learning based on subjects and the Religious Education Syllabus outlined the learning outcomes, content and language competences. Learners in Primary Five are expected to have developed sufficient basic literacy skills both in local and English language. The teacher can now use only English as a medium of instruction. The teacher should take note that the concepts are clear to enable the learners consolidate what was learnt in earlier classes. The instructional process will follow what was in the old syllabus and the teachers will be required to use the old instructional materials.

Rationale

The revised Primary Five Religious Education syllabus has been designed to consolidate all the skills acquired from P.1 to P.4. It is also intended to provide the learner with knowledge on faith, other religions, hope, relationships, judgement, fasting, leadership, good neighbourliness, importance of prayer among others.

There have been changes made including reducing the content to keep the learning experience light and simple for the learners.

- Language competences have been included in order to enforce literacy skills.
- Subject competences and language competences have been included to replace specific objectives. These competences focus on knowledge, comprehension and application.
- General learning outcomes instead of general objective are also stipulated for each topic.
- A background to introduce each of the topics has been provided. It further gives an overview of the whole topic and thus gives teacher an insight into the topic.
- Content on Voter Education, sexual and Reproductive Health, life planning skills and child labour has been included. The teacher has been guided on how to teach it, resources for the teacher to consult have also been provided in the syllabus Matrix.

Assessment Guidelines

In principle continuous assessment is recommended and should be based on the summarized competences suggested in each topic. All assessments of learning shall be based on the learning competences given in this syllabus. Besides the Continuous Assessment, there shall be end of term and end of year assessment carried out and records kept.

General Methodology

It is strongly suggested that the teacher uses those methods and activities which put the learner at the centre of the teaching/learning process. The active verbs used in expressing the learning competences are all directed to the learner. This implies that as a result of teaching/learning process, the learner should exhibit these competences.

The teacher of Religious Education is expected to use a variety of books of the old curriculum. This will not enrich teachers content but will help the teacher to prepare the correct contents of the topics. The teacher is expected to constantly help relate science to real life situations and experiences. Not all schools in Uganda may have same learning environment. The teacher should feel free to use examples which provide the learner with the opportunity to acquire the same knowledge, concepts, skills, values and competences.

The methods a teacher chooses to use should be those which contribute towards the achievement of competences, learning outcomes and eventually lead to the achievements of aims and objectives of primary education. They should be interactive in order to make the learning process interesting.

General learning outcomes

When learners go through this syllabus they will be able to:

- Develop appreciation for faith and its importance to an individual.
- Explore the facts about Islam, appreciate its existence and articulate behaviours that build good relationships.
- Explain the fulfillment of God's promise to save mankind.
- Show knowledge of and take care of the people in need.
- Express appreciation for the fact that God is the source of all Hope.

TERM I

THEME 1: CHRISTIANITY AND GOD'S WORD

TOPIC 1: FAITH

Background to the Topic

This topic presents the concept of faith. Faith is exemplified by some Bible characters in the personalities of Abraham, Moses and Daniel. It goes further to give examples of famous Christians who emulated the examples of some of the Bible characters to live faithful lives.

To live a life of faith, we need examples to emulate and use guidance from God's word. But the learner should also be helped to appreciate that the life of faith has challenges. The challenges can be overcome by perseverance. Help the learner to understand that we also need faith in authority like the constitution, Electoral Commission and the electoral process, just as we have faith in the Bible. Assist the learner to define and identify types of values.

Learning Outcome

- The learner is able to understand and appreciate that faith is important in his/her life.

Life Skills

- Critical thinking.
- Decision-making.
- Effective communication.

Values

- Faith
- Perseverance
- Co-operation

TOPIC 2: Christianity and Islam

Background to the Topic

This topic is a comparative study of a few facts about Islam and Christianity. It is meant to help the learner appreciate the fact that people seek God in different ways. The differences in seeking God should help pupils to live with others in a community based on respect and love having known that we are all creatures and seekers of God.

This topic presents facts about Islamic and Christian beliefs in the principles of democracy. It also presents the learners with some knowledge of how to relate with others and how to sustain good relationships. When handling this topic, the teacher should use story telling, brainstorming and question and answer and field visits (Mosque/Church). It is also important to use resource persons from the Islamic community.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to explore the facts about Islam, appreciate its existence, and articulate behaviours that build or destroy good relationships.

TOPIC 3: God's Word for Us

Background to the Topic

This topic presents to the learners God's word: the Bible. It is meant to help the learner understand the uniqueness of the Bible. It is important in that the learner understands that the Old Testament contains books which were written before the coming of Christ. They explain God's intervention in the history of mankind and His promise to send a saviour. The New Testament is written after the coming of Jesus which is the fulfillment of God's promise.

Help the learner to understand the centrality of the Bible in the life of a Christian. The Bible teaches guides and corrects people.

Help the learner to appreciate that as the Bible guides our way of life, the constitution does the same work of guidance to our lives. It is important to help learners to understand how to respond to the sources of guidance, that is the Bible and Constitution.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to understand that the Bible presents God's self-evaluation to man with the purpose of setting him/her free from trouble.

TERM II

TOPIC 4: GOD'S WORD FOR US: JESUS

Background to the Topic

This topic helps learners to see the Old Testament prophecies/promises of the Saviour fulfilled when Jesus Christ came to earth.

It also shows/presents to the learner the exemplary teaching of Jesus and the need for repentance. You should stress in this topic the care which should be accorded to the sick especially those suffering from HIV/AIDS.

It teaches the message of the Holy Week to help the learner appreciate the passion, death and resurrection of Jesus. While teaching this topic, use dramatization, story telling and role play.

Learning Outcome

TOPIC 5: We are the New People of God in the Spirit

Background to the Topic

This topic presents the coming of the Holy Spirit as promised by Christ after his resurrection, on the day of "Pentecost". The learner is expected to be exposed to the work of the Holy Spirit, the gifts and the fruits that are bestowed on the followers of Christ.

Help the learner to know/understand that symbols are used to represent the Holy Spirit since the spirit is invisible. It is also important to make children aware that since the founding of the church, the Holy Spirit has been actively at work. It is this same spirit that helped the Apostles Peter, John and Philip in their work of evangelization.

Use story telling, brainstorming and discussion and role playing. Allow children to exchange ideas to enable them grasp the concept.

Learning Outcome

TOPIC 6: We are the Church

Background to the Topic

In this Topic, learners are exposed to the concept of the church not only as a building or a group believers in Christ, but also as a Body of Christ.

Learners get knowledge of the responsibilities of church members. This topic, also teaches learners about how a person becomes a member of the church. Once someone becomes a member of the church, he is given instructions. Those instructions are contained in Apostle's creed. The learners need to understand that the church is a community of believers who have activities to do together.

You can use story telling, question and answer and group discussions while teaching this topic.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to explore and document, appreciate and explain the importance being a church member and the responsibilities he/she has to accomplish for the church.

TOPIC 8: Discipleship and its Rewards

Background to the Topic

This topic presents the idea of discipleship to the learner as well as the teaching of Jesus about discipleship. It further gives knowledge to the learners about the qualities and examples of discipleship. It also gives examples of famous Christians who emulated the discipleship as understood and taught by Jesus.

This topic teaches learners about relationships, qualities of a good friend and Jesus as a good friend. It also gives some knowledge on the polling process as seen in the roles of election observers and election monitors. The teacher can use group discussion, explanation, question and answer, and role-play in teaching this topic.

Learning Outcome:

The learner is able to understand and explain the concept of discipleship and describe Jesus' teaching about discipleship.

TOPIC 9: RELATIONSHIP WITH GOD

Background to the Topic

This topic helps the learner to explore the concept of the Trinity: the “three persons in one”. It helps the learner to explore the roles of each personality in the Trinity.

The relationship between the Trinity reflects love, it is the same love that should exist and guide the relations of God’s creatures. This topic gives examples of Christians who to their best, lived and practiced love of God and love of fellow human beings. The topic challenges the learner to respond to that divine love by emulating the examples of some famous Christians.

The suggested methods will include singing, reading the Bible and discussions.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to study and articulate the roles played by the three persons: God the FATHER, God the SON and God the HOLY SPIRIT.

(B) – Islamic Religious Education Syllabus

ISLAMIC RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Background

This is Primary Five Islamic Religious Education Syllabus. In Primary 1 – 3 learning is based on themes, learning outcomes and competences. Most of the religious related competences are covered under the literacy strands of the Thematic Curriculum.

In Primary Four learning based on subjects and the Religious Education Syllabus outlined the learning outcomes, content and language competences. Learners in Primary Five are expected to have developed sufficient basic literacy skills both in local and English language. The teacher can now use only English as a medium of instruction. The teacher should take note that the concepts are clear to enable the learners consolidate what was learnt in earlier classes. The instructional process will follow what was in the old syllabus and the teachers will be required to use the old instructional materials.

Rationale

The revised Primary Five Religious Education syllabus has been designed to consolidate all the skills acquired from P.1 to P.4. It is also intended to provide the learner with knowledge on faith, other religions, hope, relationships, judgement, fasting, leadership, good neighbourliness, importance of prayer among others.

There have been changes made including reducing the content to keep the learning experience light and simple for the learners.

- Language competences have been included in order to enforce literacy skills.
- Subject competences and language competences have been included to replace specific objectives. These competences focus on knowledge, comprehension and application.
- General learning outcomes instead of general objective are also stipulated for each topic.
- A background to introduce each of the topics has been provided. It further gives an overview of the whole topic and thus gives teacher an insight into the topic.
- Content on Voter Education, sexual and Reproductive Health, life planning skills and child labour has been included. The teacher has been guided on how to teach it, resources for the teacher to consult have also been provided in the syllabus Matrix.

Assessment Guidelines

In principle continuous assessment is recommended and should be based on the summarized competences suggested in each topic. All assessments of learning shall be based on the learning competences given in this syllabus. Besides the Continuous Assessment, there shall be end of term and end of year assessment carried out and records kept.

General Methodology

It is strongly suggested that the teacher uses those methods and activities which put the learner at the centre of the teaching/learning process. The active verbs used in expressing the learning competences are all directed to the learner. This implies that as a result of teaching/learning process, the learner should exhibit these competences.

The teacher of Religious Education is expected to use a variety of books of the old curriculum. This will not enrich teachers content but will help the teacher to prepare the correct contents of the topics. The teacher is expected to constantly help relate science to real life situations and experiences. Not all schools in Uganda may have same learning environment. The teacher should feel free to use examples which provide the learner with the opportunity to acquire the same knowledge, concepts, skills, values and competences.

The methods a teacher chooses to use should be those which contribute towards the achievement of competences, learning outcomes and eventually lead to the achievements of aims and objectives of primary education. They should be interactive in order to make the learning process interesting.

General learning outcomes

When the learners go through this syllabus they will be able to:

- Appreciate the values that are advanced by the Surah(s)
- Express knowledge and understanding of fasting and how it links people to the Creator.
- Practice and express good neighbourliness in the communities where they live.
- Respect both God-made-laws and man-made-laws.
- Appreciate the values of giving inform of Zakah.

TERM I

THEME 1: READING FROM THE QU'RAN (CHAPTER 99)

Topic 1: Surat Al-Zilzala

General Background

Surat Al-zilzala is the 99th chapter in the Qur'an,

It shows that any deed done in life, even the most secret, will be brought to full light of day. The Surah was intended to guide people to do good and abandon evil. Hence this topic will help learners to know there is life after death, and that whatever a person does, good or bad, is accounted for both here and in the hereafter. The learner will therefore be able to properly choose and develop value.

Methodology

- Recitation
- Rote method
- Discussion
- Demonstration

Life skills and Values

- Effective communication.
- Creative thinking.
- Decision- making.

Learning Outcome

- The learner is able to understand and appreciate the content of the Surah, adopt and practice values advanced by the Surah and demonstrate life skills for maintaining peace in society.

TOPIC 4: Vegetation in Uganda

General Background to the Topic

In Primary Four, the learner was introduced to different types of vegetation in his/her district. He/she visited various types of vegetation in his/her environment and saw the way people and other living things benefit from it. The learner was encouraged to acquire skills of caring and preserving the vegetation for future use.

In Primary Five, the learner is expected to exercise his/her knowledge and skills of conserving the vegetation. In addition, the learner will understand factors that influence vegetation distribution in Uganda, its relationship with population distribution and how it meets people's demands for food and settlement.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to show, understand and appreciate the importance and value of vegetation for better living.

TOPIC 5: Natural Resources in Uganda

General Background to the Topic

This topic introduces the learner to the natural resources in Uganda. It leads him/her to know the different types of natural resources and their location on the map of Uganda.

The learner will also learn about their value, uses and how they contribute to the economic growth. He/she will also identify problems associated with their development as well as possible ways of solving them.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to know the natural resources in their immediate and distant environment, how people use them to earn a living and analyse bad practices that destroy natural resources.

TERM II

TOPIC 6: The People of Pre-Colonial Uganda

General Background to the Topic

In Primary Four, the learner learnt about the people in his/her district and how they use both the physical and social environment to earn a better living.

In Primary Five, the learner should know the major ethnic groups of people, their origins and settlement in Uganda. He/she should also know the social and political organisation of these ethnic groups. Since every human being struggles to have improved living, the learner should also study the economic organisation of the pre-colonial societies in Uganda, the food and cash crops which were grown by those different ethnic groups.

Learning Outcomes

The learner is able to promote and practice desirable knowledge and values in the society and show respect for his/her culture and those of other people; demonstrate an understanding of and use map reading skills to interpret information.

- List five roles and responsibilities of traditional rulers in Uganda.

TOPIC 7: Foreign Influence in Uganda

General Background to the Topic

In the last topic, the learner identified the different ethnic groups and how they migrated into Uganda. In this topic, the learner will cover why the foreigners came to Uganda, their contribution and influence.

The Arab traders from Asia were the first to come to Uganda. They came with guns, cloth, carpets, cowrie shells, beads and other goods which were exchanged for slaves, ivory, gold, salt and animal skins. Later, came the Europeans who were explorers, Christian Missionaries and colonial administrators. These influenced the social, economic and political life of Ugandans.

Learning Outcomes

The learner is able to understand the importance of the interdependence among people and nations and demonstrate an understanding of and use of map reading skills to collect information.

 - (ii) The people who started it.
 - (iii) Who is responsible for it today?

TOPIC 8: How Uganda Became a Nation

General Background to the Topic

In the last topic, you covered how foreigners came into Uganda, with their culture, systems of leadership and ways of trade. These led to bringing together of many kingdoms and other areas to form one country. This country is Uganda.

The learner should explain how Uganda came to be one nation under the British rule. The learner will be exposed to various agreements (Buganda, Toro, Ankole and Bunyoro) and even how the British extended their rule to the rest of the nation. The learner will be introduced to the influence of British rule on Uganda.

Learning Outcome

The learner is able to explore, understand and appreciate the value of Uganda as a nation.

- State three ways in which colonial rule changed the life of Ugandans.
- Mention three ways in which African traditional culture was weakened by Britain.
- Explain five new things which were introduced by the British Government in Uganda.

TOPIC 9: The Road to Independence

General Background to the Topic

From the previous topic, the learner is aware that Uganda during the colonial administration experienced many political, social and economic changes. The road to independence was not a smooth move to Ugandans. There were a number of civil strives as Ugandans during that time resisted colonial rule. However, there were a number of good things which were introduced in Uganda and these are cash crops, formal education, Christianity, Islam, better medical services, taxation, laws and regulations.

In this topic, the learner will learn that the system of administration had unique characteristics. The legal system was not favouring the Africans. This forced the formation of the Legislative Council (LEGCO) which had some Africans nominated to represent people in their areas. The Africans who had fought both in the First and Second World Wars came back and joined their brothers and sisters at home to demand and fight for independence.

The Traditional Kings, chiefs and leading personalities played key roles in mobilizing people and forming the first political parties to struggle for independence.

Learning Outcomes

The learner is able to:

- Demonstrate knowledge and appreciate the African's collective responsibility in bringing order and social justice.
- Understand the structures and functions of government and demonstrate willingness to participate in the democratic and civic process of one's country.

TERM III

TOPIC 10: Uganda as an Independent Nation

General Background to the Topic

In the previous topic, the learner covered the road to independence, the people who struggled for independence, the formation of the Legislative Council (LEGCO) and the first political parties. These events led to an independent Uganda.

The learner should explain what independence means, when Uganda got her independence, and be able to mention the symbols of the nation and their significance. The learner should explain what democracy means.

Learning Outcomes

The learner is able to explore, understand the values of an independent country, the national symbols and appreciate the principles of democracy in Uganda.
