THE ACCIDENT I WITNESSED

Last weekend as I was travelling to Mbale, I saw an accident happening at Kaliro Roundabout in Iganga. It involved two taxis which had a head – on collision. One of the taxis had ten passengers while the other had fourteen of them.

Fortunately, none of the passengers died. However, about seven of them sustained minor injuries. The police quickly came to rescue the situation. The casualties were rushed to Iganga Referral Hospital which is about a half a kilometer from the roundabout.

The two taxis that had been involved in the accident were later towed to the police station. The drivers of both taxis were required to go and make statements about the incident.

I was lucky I was not in any of those taxis whose drivers were driving then recklessly.
